Eight easy steps towards the 2014 AIC Seminar

First of all thank you for your interest in our association and in our seminar.

We would like to give you some tips to get the most out of your experience, to make things easy for you also in avoiding some annoying problems that could come out from the mail correspondence or lack of information.

Here follow eight easy steps to apply for our seminar.

1- Grab information!

As AIC we would like to offer you the best possible experience in Israel-West Bank. We deeply believe in the value of this seminar and therefore we advise you to make your considerations when deciding to apply. We set up a lot of tools to allow you to get information about the seminar. You can visit our website www.alternativenews.org , to read reports and articles about the previous editions; we have a facebook group Bridges instead of walls! where you can see pictures, talk to us or other participants, upload pictures, videos or write your thoughts; you can call us at our offices (00972 2 277 5444) or come to our offices in Jerusalem and Beit Sahour; you can write us at aic.camps@gmail.com; and last but not least, contact people that did the same program before you, we can give you their email address.

Once you send your application we count on you, we reserve your place and we start planning everything, so when you make up your mind be sure that you can make it!

2- Send your application

Please fill the word format in and send it to us at aic.camps@gmail.com. We will confirm the reception as soon as possible.

3- Pay the deposit

Once your application will be accepted, we will send you the bank details to pay the deposit. If you encounter any problem with the international bank transfer just contact us and we will sort things out. You will receive the receipt of the payment straight away.

4- Receive the info sheet and the updated program

Once you'll be officially in the program, we will send you a document that contains all the practical details of the seminar (flight info, transportation, meeting point, accommodation, etc.) along with the most updated program.

5- Book your flight

When you'll have seen the info sheet you will be able to book your flight. We can also suggest you some companies that operate cheap flights from Europe.

6- Welcome to the seminar!

Once in Palestine we will take care of everything. The whole AIC staff will help you with the practical issues and will always be available for you before, during and after the seminar. Just open your eyes, ears, heart and mind!

WELCOME !

7- Be active at home

The AIC is an internationally oriented, progressive association who firmly believes in the dissemination of information, political advocacy, grassroots activism and the critical analysis of the context in which it works. Therefore we will give you the tools to be active in your own country. Information, criticism, dynamism and joint efforts are the base of a just society building process. The AIC is always keen to support initiatives, give contacts, and organize events wherever we have the chance to do so.

8- Create a network

The aim of this seminar is to provide participants with elements crucial to deeply understand the context and society in Palestine and Israel. In support of the democratic and universal principles it promotes throughout the world, the international community should practically and continuously contribute to change situations of violence, injustice, discrimination and racism. We will try to organize a specific meeting of ex participants and friends in the next months, in order to plan strategies, organize events, change contacts and ideas and, of course, having some fun as well!

We look forward to having you at the seminar!
